Nancy, along with Vice Mayor Cindy Chavez, presents a commendation to Holy Spirit School during Catholic Education Week

Dear District 10 Residents and Friends,

I'm sure that most of you don't need to be reminded that Valentine's Day will be here before we know it! Valentine's Day is always a fabulous opportunity to think about the people and things that mean the most to us in our everyday lives. When we buy chocolates and flowers for those special loved-ones, not only do each of us give a gift, we also make a special investment in that relationship. Looking at recent events, I can see just how important it is for each of us to make meaningful investments in the areas we care about. The San Jose City Council decision to invest in the Grand Prix is a way to make an investment in our great City. Here's why:

1. As a major policy direction that came from "Getting Families back to Work" study sessions for the last three years, the Council unanimously agreed to pursue economic development activities in the sports and entertainment fields. We also unanimously approved the Grand Prix last year because of the opportunities it presented to generate income for our City.
2. The 2005 race had spectacular results:
 - During the three-day period, the event drew over 150,000 spectators to San Jose's downtown.
 - Approximately 23,000 grandstand seats were sold before the race.
 - 30,000 pieces of race-related merchandise were sold.
 - The pre-race Canary Fund Gala raised $700,000 for cancer research.
 - VTA rider ship on the light rail system was up 47% on Friday (+5,000), 148% on Saturday (+10,000), and 284% on Sunday (+15,000).
 - More than 100,000 viewers watched the tape-delayed broadcast on NBC-11, making it the most viewed sporting event that weekend, surpassing both the Giants' and the A's baseball games.
 - TV coverage was international, with the event broadcast to 54 countries.
 - Hotels experienced an additional 3,000 room nights, with overall occupancy rising from 55% to 77% from the pre-race year.
3. Economic Impact

Direct attendee spending associated from the race is estimated at $23.1 million. Applying a multiplier effect to represent how this money expands into San Jose's economy brings the total estimated attendee spending to $41.6 Million. Solidly documented estimates include 2005 revenue in four categories: Sales Taxes ($19,000), Room Taxes ($72,000), net parking revenues ($21,000). The 2006 race will also include $1 per daily admission ($150,000). Total revenue from these four sources is conservatively estimated to total approximately $262,000 per year for the remaining 8 years of the agreement. Even if these revenues do not grow in future years, the City's initial investment (excluding City services costs) would be paid back by the 6th year of the event.

The investment required under the agreement totals $1.0 million in 2006, and $500,000 in 2007. No further contributions are required after the 2007 race. Amortized over the nine years of the agreement, City Investment contributions average approximately $167,000 annually. All of the Investment contributions are to be provided from the General Fund. If all costs for the agreement (including those paid for by the Redevelopment Agency) are included, total costs average $945,000 per year over the full nine years of the agreement. These costs include city contributions and investments, other financial assistance as noted above, and city services including staff planning, interagency coordination, traffic related expenses, and public safety-expenses. As previously discussed, this approach to cost allocation is more conservative than reported by any other agency. From the 9 year investment, over $400 million is anticipated as income to the local economy, which makes the Grand Prix a sound investment.

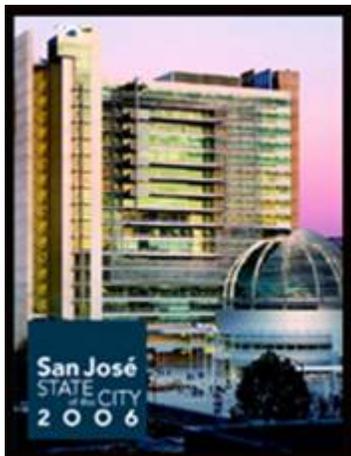

Best wishes,
Nancy Pyle
Councilmember, District Ten

D10 Recipe of the Month

Valentine's Day Truffles

Ingredients

- 1/4 cup heavy cream
- 8 oz. bittersweet chocolate, cut in small pieces
- 6 tbsp. unsalted butter, softened
- 6 pecan sandies or 1/4 cup fine cocoa

Directions

In a heavy, small saucepan, bring the cream to a boil. Remove from the heat and stir in the chocolate and butter. If necessary return to heat for 30 seconds while stirring until chocolate is completely melted and well blended.

Pour chocolate mixture in a shallow glass or plastic container and refrigerate until firm, about 2 hours.

Process pecan sandies in food processor or blender to make very fine crumbs, and scatter them on a pie plate. Line a glass, airtight container with waxed paper. Dip a melon baller in warm water and scrape it across the surface of the cold truffle mixture to form a 1/2-inch ball. Drop the ball into the crumbs and repeat with the rest of the mixture.

Roll the chocolate balls around the crumbs until well coated.

Transfer the truffles to the prepared container and separate layers with additional wax paper. Cover tightly and keep refrigerated. Makes around 35 small truffles.
